CityFitness was proud to support the inaugural Halberg Invitational as a Gold Sponsor, entering two teams in the exclusive charity golf event held at Royal Auckland and Grange Golf Club.

Bringing together business leaders, sporting greats and supporters of inclusive sport, the prestigious tournament raised just under $100,000 to support the Halberg Foundation's work helping young New Zealanders with physical disabilities access sport and active recreation.

The event featured exceptional hospitality, elite competition and the opportunity for participating teams to play alongside some of New Zealand's most recognised sporting personalities, including legendary Kiwi caddy Steve Williams.

While the focus of the day was supporting a great cause, CityFitness was proud to see one of its teams emerge as the inaugural Halberg Invitational champion, capping off a fantastic day both on and off the course.

CityFitness Spokesperson reflected on the day, "we're proud to support organisations like the Halberg Foundation that help break down barriers to participation and create opportunities for more New Zealanders to lead active lives."

Being part of the inaugural Halberg Invitational was a fantastic way to contribute to a meaningful cause while connecting with others who share that commitment."
